House La Colle-sur-Loup

Nestled on the edge of a natural park in La Colle-sur-Loup, this superb 18th-century farmhouse offers an idyllic setting just minutes from the medieval village of St. Paul de Vence and close to Cannes, Nice, Antibes, and Monaco. Surrounded by greenery, the property features a swimming pool, pétanque court, and large terraces overlooking the park and the Loup River. With a rich history as a monastery, post office under Napoleon, and later owned by actor David Carradine, the home combines heritage with modern comfort. Completely renovated in 2020, the bright bedrooms boast high ceilings, large windows, air conditioning, and stylish bathrooms. Most rooms open directly onto the gardens. A separate 40m² apartment with private garden includes a spacious bedroom, modern bathroom, bright living room with bay windows, and a fully equipped kitchenette. Plenty of parking, beautiful outdoor spaces, and authentic charm make this a truly exceptional property.
